I stopped hunting back in the year 2000 because to many hunters and not enough deer. Now the problem is there are more cougars and no deer so they are looking for new sources and thats people and there live stock. Once the live stock is gone because lets be honest, people can't keep buying live stock to sacrifice to the cougar gods so the cougars will turn on the humans that live in the country side. The cougars are thrill killing and not even eating the live stock, just leave it for dead. Let's do the right thing Oregon and put a dent in the cougar population.
