I am not sure why the Gas Industry is so opposed to people....and to transparency! If you are going to put this into peoples homes, they surely have a right to know about it and plan for it all. We have NO idea aabout the safety or lack of it with this very volital substance.

I live in a manufactured home park and many in this park have gas. I don't even want to live next ot someone who has this piped into their home. Please do not let this progress at all. And if it progresses, and we have hydrogen piped here and there, it MUST be totally proven safe before it is used, and...AND, all residents need to know that it is being used, and have a say in how. Thanks. Sue Craig
