Good morning

I am speaking on behalf of the cougars. Using dogs to hunt cougars is not hunting, it's murder. These animals are trying to live, survive and care for their young just as we are. What are we so afraid of? Cougars don't kill just to kill, but man is another story. There is so much anger and hate, and special interest groups seem to dominate and control what goes on. What about public opinion, what about learning to live with them instead of against them? Many of these cougars are female, there may be kits waiting for her to come home, without her they have no chance, what does that say about us? Please be the change to make a difference for them, for us, for all life...

Thank you for your time and allowing me to speak
