No on SB 769.

For a thriving, abundant, more caring future we must rethink the way we interact with our wildlife, land, resources and each other. In that humans are overwhelmingly Earth's greediest and irresponsible takers, it is our responsibility to do what best nurtures a vigorous, inclusive web of life in which all species can depend on. We are their and our own worst enemies. More respect and real communication with other animals and each other will make the world a better place. Not the violence in SB 769.
