The Tire Tax is a direct tax on working poor Oregonians that are struggling to keep their vehicles running, filled with gas, and in some cases make a small business thrive or keep gainfully employed.

I understand the desire for a piggy bank slush fund from taxing tires from the Democrats but this is not the time to putting the state squeeze on struggling Oregonians.

If in two years there is political will to raise taxes on tires than we can revisit this proposal in the future.
