This is a terrible way to get something not related to roadways done. If you want to do something like this . SELL some of the state's property, rather than burden the taxpayers anymore. OR rent out some of the state's property to private companies. A possible rental would be an IKEA store right there in the state property next to SOS building. The people of Oregon can't pay any more. Maybe a DOGE group here will help get rid of fat in the budgets. And cut departments overhead by 35 %.
