The refugees and immigrants we serve come from scarcity of food and water at times and come to America for a better life, to be contributing citizens and to learn the laws of the land and succeed and give back. They can't become self sufficient and succeed without resources and a helping hand for basic human rights, they must have the social service benefits such as food assistance to feed their families until they get their work permits to work hard and provide for their families, but even then minimum wage will not cover all costs. Clients have fallen on their Knees begging for help and we need the resources to help them. Access for all is critical to the well being of society.
