I speak in opposition to SB 77. This may be the most egregious act of government overreach yet. If a landowner can't do what they desire with the land they worked hard to buy what is the point of owning land at all. The state does not have the right to tell a landowner who may live on that property or what a landowner is allowed to do with the property as long as the proprietor stays within the bounds of the law. It will squash new and innovative entrepreneurs chances of realizing their dream.

ABSOLUTE NO ON SB 77
