Measure, Appointment or
Topic: SB77

Senate Bill 77 imposes unnecessary restrictions on small farms, limiting necessary economic opportunities which is vital to keep farms alive. By capping home size to 2,000 square feet, restricting client parking, and on-site services, this bill makes it extremely difficult for small farms to qualify for this lifeline of income. The government should support, not hinder, small business owners who are simply trying to sustain their livelihoods while responsibly using their land. This bill will destroy farmland, not save it.
