I highly appose the extra tax on tires. They are expensive enough as it is without adding more insult to injury. Oregonians are one of the highest taxed people in the nation as it is. Why do you think people are moving out of this state? They can't afford to live her any longer. If tires are so out of reach financially, people with put off their purchase when they are needed, making our roads and highways that much more unsafe. These funds that would be raised aren't even earmarked for our roads, etc. I'm sure there is a lot more damage to the fish in our waterways by fertilizers and pesticides entering the water than tire residue.
