This simply strikes me as a "solution" looking for a problem. It further undermines the general rural population's confidence that our planning and government systems exist to serve our best interests. My take is if I own a property with a single wide mobile home, 12 X 60, 720 square feet, and I want to replace it with a double wide, 24 X 60, 1,440 square feet, this will not be permitted. Heaven forbid I should want to construct a site-built home of 2,600 square feet for a nice place to live (and pay the taxes that will be assessed).

This is a terrible proposal!!! Table it and let it die a natural death.
