Topic: SB78

This is a direct attack on property rights and limits the freedoms of homeowners and victims of wildfires and other natural disasters that force Oregonians to rebuild.

Imagine losing your home in a fire, only to have the government tell you how big your new home can be. This kind of government overreach punishes homeowners who simply want to rebuild what they lost.

Oregonians deserve the freedom to rebuild their homes without unnecessary restrictions that infringe on their property rights.

I oppose this bill!
