I am writing on behalf of myself. As a survivor of such a crime at the age of 13 where the person never spent a day behind bars. When I finally was not so traumatized to face what happened I got to find out I was the only 1 of this person's 5 girl victims who spoke. Now this was years ago, but truly I would never wish this on another person. The effects it has can change peoples lives and not for the better. At least a predator like a bear or mountain lion the difference is visible, but a person who sexually assaults children looks like everyone else. As citizens within this world we owe it to others to give just a little protection even if it is categorizing who puts us, our children, or our grandchildren at risk.
