A 12-year-old child has no business operating a motorized vehicle on the road with cars. It's not safe for them, and they don't have the decision making capacity to make safe choices on the road. I already see kids riding these who are too young, no helmet, multiple kids on one bike, etc. I personally know high school kids in my town who have been seriously injured by cars while riding e-bikes. Allowing even younger children to ride these bikes is dangerous.
