

Residential Programs Closures Since 2015

Below is a list of residential programs that have closed their doors since 2015. Some programs were small and had a capacity of just 2 or 3 residential beds, while others were much larger with a capacity of 25 to 30; they also covered a range of specialized services for vulnerable children and youth, ranging from pregnant and parenting teens, to LGBTQIA+ youth, to Native American youth. In total, conservatively these programs represent at least 275 to 300 lost residential beds over 9-years. The list does not include programs that reduced their number of beds but remained open.

1. ACT NW
2. Albertina Kerr (BRS Program)
3. Alder Creek
4. Autumn Ridge
5. Becket Cetner
6. Bell Cove
7. Bob Belloni Ranch (Bob Belloni, Wineva Johnson)
8. Boys and Girls Aid (The Nest)
9. Bridgestone
10. Catholic Community Services (Residential Foster Care, Poyoma Day Treatment, & BRS Cavazos House)
11. CCRC
12. Clear VU
13. College Excel
14. Columbia River Ranch
15. Columbia Rose
16. Community Works (Lithia Springs)
17. Creekside
18. Douglas County (Fowler, Creekside, Youth Care Center)
19. Dragonfly Transitions
20. Driftwood
21. Evoke Wilderness
22. Fairview Firs
23. Fieldstone
24. Haag Home
25. Hourglass
26. Janus Youth (Annex II, Clackamas House, BRS Programs)
27. Johnson Creek
28. Kairos (New Beginnings)
29. Kellogg Creek
30. Looking Glass
31. Mackenzie Ridge
32. Morrison (Rosemont, LGBTQ+ Program)
33. New Leaf Academy
34. New Roads
35. NORCOR
36. Redemption Ridge
37. River Bridge
38. Rockwood
39. Salmon Run
40. Salvation Army (White Shield, Wildflowers)
41. The Guest House
42. The I am Academy (Bell House, culturally specific)
43. The Inn Home for Boys
44. Willamette Rose
45. Youth Guidance Association (Son Village, Charis Ridge)
46. Youth Progress (Jordan House & Smith House)
47. Youth Villages (Cedar Bough)