My testimony is to pinpoint the importance on why it is important for people who have mental illness need to have access to food for remaining stable. Especially, because it cost less money to make sure we have food, than having to put us in jail, prison, or the psychiatric physicality. The reason that I support Measure 611 to help people with disability is because have Bipolar One, and know that as long as I get a good amount of food, medication, being connected with a mental health organization, money, and most importantly food, then I am able remain stable.
