

Chintimini Wildlife center is a wonderful organization that needs this funding. Their rehabilitation center helps to protect injured and compromised wildlife, provide a home for them if they cannot survive in the wild, or releases them once they are healed. Chintimini provides nature education for the public and is an important part of our community and environment. There have been an increasing amount of wildlife being brought to Chintimini, and they require larger facilities to adequately provide for them.