Let beavers do their work! We can use all the help we can get to restore water quality, especially since we humans are the party responsible for degrading our own water quality. We're really not all that smart with our sewer overflows, Ross Island toxic sludge pits, Superfund status, not to mention allowing Zenith Energy to ship tar sands oil by rail right over the Willamette River. Think about that... we could be the next Palestine, Ohio. Beavers, on the other hand, aren't corrupt, greedy or stupid like that; they just help maintain healthy waterways.
