

Submitter: Jill Riechers

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Climate, Energy, and Environment

Measure, Appointment or
Topic: HB3932

As thoroughly explained in Leila Philip's well-researched book, "Beaverland," beaver activity in streams helps water quality, flood prevention, and fish survival, and in so doing, benefits many other species, including our own. For these reasons, I strongly support H. 3932.