SB243

Here's the old timey word of the day. Boondoggle! where is the money coming from to support all these bills? Like the old lady that used to say where's the beef where's the funding? Do mom's demand and every town and levo plan to foot the bill for all of this? Since they seem to have the money to buy our legislators. Really this means the state just blew 5 million dollars in defense of measure 114! That sure would have filled a lot of potholes. Focusing on the law abiding gun owner won't solve the problem. How about lowering the bar for civil commitment of the mentally ill funding programs for at risk youth including job training programs. But instead we see a complete waste of the resources and taxpayers money
