I strongly support keeping Oregon's vote by mail system intact as is. Ideological arguments aside, the system works. I've lived in and voted in 4 states and Oregon's vote by mail system works better than any other that I've experienced. It is particularly valuable to rural voters. Any consideration of requiring in person voting necessarily needs to simultaneously establish a federal holiday on voting day and require polling locations be established within walking distance of all voters. Keep vote by mail intact.
