Voting in person is cumbersome, archaic and strips some citizens of the right to vote as many work or are encumbered by situations that negate their ability to go to a polling place. It also is a way for charlatans to influence the vote count. We vote by mail and love the directness and ease of voting, discussing the merits or lack thereof of individuals running for office or the explanations for various community and state proposals submitted to the public. Yes to vote by mail! Our Washington and Colorado counterparts enjoy the same!
