mail in voting has been validated as virtually fully a non-fraud process. mailing in aids voter enfranchisement, which is a fundamental and basic right, recognized and preserved in the constitution. and is imperative to a valid democracy. any interest to constrict so, disobeys laws and the constitution. oppose this in person required, effort. it is clear that foreign located american citizens whether residing or traveling, including away posted military, have their mail in vote ability secured. so reason offends, when efforts are made, to limit those in similar access conditions. mail in voting is appropriate, valid, and necessary. wbc 97214, 69 year old oregonian.
