After living in other states with in-person voting where I couldn't get a ride to vote or was sick that day, I have never missed a vote since moving to Oregon. I've been more engaged with down ballot races. I spend more time researching candidates' positions and impacts. I feel more involved with our government.

The only reason to get rid of vote by mail is to make it more difficult and time consuming to vote and anyone suggesting it should be ashamed of themselves for such an undemocratic goal.
