I'm writing in opposition to SB 210.

Oregon has one of the most secure and trusted vote-by-mail systems in the country. Switching to in-person voting would be unnecessary, expensive, and disruptive. So many people are not able to stand in long voting lines, whether it's because they have a disability, medical condition, child-care/adult-care issues, or are working long hours. Mail-in ballots helps to ensure the most people possible have the ability to vote. So many people choose not to vote. If mail-in ballots and voting go away, even fewer people will vote.
