Moving to Oregon and having vote by mail is one of the single biggest reasons that I still live in the United States. I came of voting age in TN, became a voter in KY later on, and have never been able to vote before I moved to Oregon because of issues with showing up, lack of information on the candidates, and lack of motivation from how anti-America those states are. Don't kill vote by mail - don't do anything to further restrict voting in Oregon - the laast state that truly embodies the American Excellence the rest of the country pretends still exists!
