Mail-in ballots should remain the standard for voting in the state of Oregon. I oppose this measure. In person voting would make it difficult for myself and many Oregonians to vote.

Mail-in ballots are secure and allow all Oregonians to vote.

I have friends who live elsewhere in the US in states that actively use in person voting as a way to suppress votes. Depending on where you live and what you look like in this state, you have to wait hours in line to vote, and not everyone can afford to take time off work to do this. In person voting is inherently unfair and would disproportionately impact Oregonians.
