I am from Portland, born and raised. I lived in other cities where mail-in voting was not allowed for around a decade. Mail in voting is extremely important to keep the population engaged and ensure that people who have jobs, families, disabilities, or, like, lives are able to vote without issue. There is absolutely no reason to oppose mail in voting unless you are actively trying to suppress the electorate. We can boast about one of the highest election engagement scores in the country, and very low voting fraud.

Why are we trying to get rid of mail in voting? I guarantee it's because the GOP wants to keep people of color, people with disabilities, and those who have to work for a living from exercising their constitutional right to vote. Please oppose this repeal, there are bigger issues for us to work on than breaking something that works just fine.
