Opposing Senate Bill 1154

I am firmly against Senate Bill 1154, and I can't believe the nerve of this legislature. They're trying to ram through a well water tax that's a direct attack on folks like me, and it's pushing hardworking Oregonians to the breaking point.

For years, I've put my own money—already taxed when I earned it—into digging and keeping up the well on our land. It's ours, plain and simple. Now they think they can waltz onto my property and stick a meter on it, charging me for water I've already paid to access? That's not just wrong—it's an insult. They're doing this because they can't stop overspending and mismanaging the budget, year after year. I'm not here to be their scapegoat, bailing them out of their financial mess with my own resources.

The Democrats in charge, with their iron grip on this state, have lost all connection to the people they're supposed to represent. They don't care about us—they've ignored the voters and trampled on our property rights to fund their reckless habits. This bill is forcing my family to seriously consider leaving Oregon, and I know we're not alone. Friends and neighbors I've talked to are already gone, fed up with the same nonsense. This place is turning into a rich man's retreat, and regular people like us are being shoved out the door.

If Senate Bill 1154 goes through with this well tax, Oregon's done for—it'll be a state where only the elite can afford to stick around. I'm not staying to be fleeced, but I feel for those who can't leave—you're in for a rough ride. We need leaders who actually give a damn about our rights and our livelihoods, not this garbage.

I stand against Senate Bill 1154, and I'm calling on everyone to send in your own testimony. We've got to fight back against these heartless politicians who only care about clinging to power, not the people they're supposed to serve. Save our state while we still can.
