As an avid bike rider in Corvallis OR I support the Slamonberry trail as it will provide a huge health benefit to those near it in some rural areas of Oregon. I frequent the Banks Vernonia trail and have visited the end point near the Clatsop/Tillamook county line. We saw elk, deer, countless birds and waterfalls. It's gorgeous out there! Huge economic boost for several rural counties!! Vernonia is an example of what can happen!!!
And a boost for tourism due to the Rails to Trails sector too. Win win win all around!
