The Salmonberry river is among the most beautiful spots in Oregon.

Opening up a safe trail to enjoy this river would be a wonderful addition to hiking trails in the state. Its location is very convenient for anyone using US26. I think it will rival access to Short Sands Beach in Oswald West State Park in both feel of the experience, and numbers of visitors.

Providing this type of experience to the residents of Oregon will be amazing. It will provide a restorative break for citizens to walk, or sit in the wilderness with a beautiful river to observe.

I would love to see funding available for this trail.
