I absolutely oppose this bill. If workers want to strike that is their risk and if they want to be compensated for striking then they need to coordinate with their union to set up a relief strike fund or ask their supporters to start a gofund me. It is not the job of the public to pay these workers to stay out on strike while the rest go to work. And I say this as someone who has the option of being in a Union and has opted out and has to deal with the consequences of this when they strike and I show up to work. But I digress, bottom line is Union workers or any others should not be paid by those working while they choose to sit out. They want the change, then they need to be the ones to handle the risk.
