With over 750,000+ Oregonians having departed since our last census, which includes 1/6th of our tax base, the continued failed money management by Democrats in charge, and the already tax overburdened Oregonians remaining there is no viable or justifiable reason for increasing taxes on a population that just can't afford it. Democrats in charge, with a few uni-party Republicans, are destroying families and quality of life. NO ONE wants more taxes. We're supposed to only have state income tax, and property tax, but in fact have every tax which puts us at California's levels. Population decline for California has been experienced right here in Oregon. Too many stupid people with no economic understanding elected to public office. Tina Kotek and her minions should be ashamed of themselves. They have turned an entire state against them to the tune of over 80% of the population.
