I am a young man, trying to save enough to move out, get married, buy a house, and raise kids. Taxes are right and biblical though they have increasingly gotten more overbearing and I gone too far. Good citizens don't mind paying taxes though the money we've paid has gone to things they shouldn't have and those more money is needed to cover that. We're done. Gas is too expensive, food is too expensive, we want financial transparency in the government and there is none of that. Lower the taxes. You will have far more happy and loyal citizens.
