

Submitter: Brian Resecker

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Labor and Business

Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB916

Going on strike IS voluntary unemployment, therefore unemployment benefits should NOT be granted. It is in the best interests of all involved to settle a strike as quickly as possible. Granting unemployment benefits would take away some of the expediency in settling the labor dispute.