All of my life I have been taught and learned how to carry a budget. I do not understand how the state of Oregon then go so awry with the money they take from me without my consent. We are reaching the point of taxation without representation. The state of Oregon needs to follow a budget that it can live within that does not mean take more money from its citizens to live within that budget. Eventually the ankle collapse and then where will we be. We need to quit spending money on pet projects. Just because someone yells does not mean they are in need. Funding those are cried allowed us just teach them to cry louder. I would vote Yes if I could see the state was spending my money wisely, it is not. Stop taking citizens money without them authorizing it.
