Yesterday I drove into downtown Portland. What I saw was a stark indictment of failed Democrat transportation ideas. On I-84 (Banfield Highway), at least 6 Max trains wizzed by--all completely empty while I-84 was stop and go traffic at 10 am, long after rush hour. You would think that Democrats would develop some humility after such spectacular transportation failures such as Max. Billions wasted on a harebrained transportation solution that no one uses, motivated by a harebrained fear of the imaginary problem of manmade climate change. Democrat rule is destroying this state, and this is a continuation.
