The Frog Ferry project is not a viable means of transportation within the Portland Metro area. Focusing only on river transport, it excludes a large number of people who use public services to commute within Metro. The Frog Ferry folks recently requested $20 million! from the city of Portland. This was done despite budget shortfalls totally millions of dollars. We do not need another government subsidized transportation system with unknown dollars to support a system that cannot even offer estimated ridership numbers. I strongly suggest this project not be considered within HB2025. Respectfully, Sal DiGrande
