BACKGROUND:

In 2022, the Oregon Health Authority (OHA) contracted with Oregon Health and Science University to develop and implement a comprehensive data collection system for the state's Mobile Crisis Intervention Services (MICS) program. OHA's Oregon Mobile Crisis Intervention Services 2024 Annual Report documented that in 2024, there were 25,720 MICS dispatches across the state, serving 16,414 unique individuals. OHA reported that 3 percent of the Oregonians age 18 and over served by MICS in 2024 were current or former military and/or National Guard members, and 43 percent of those served had missing or unknown information regarding their military status.
