BACKGROUND:

In 2024, 97 percent of Oregonians had health insurance coverage, according to the Oregon Health Insurance Survey. In that year, nearly 46 percent of Oregonians received their health insurance through employer-sponsored or group coverage, and 32 percent received their coverage through Oregon's medical assistance program. Known as the Oregon Health Plan (OHP), state and federal Medicaid resources combine to cover low-income Oregonians, including working families, children, pregnant women, single adults, and seniors. According to KFF, of the Oregonians enrolled in OHP, 41 percent work full-time and 30 percent work part-time.

Large employers with 50 or more full-time employees must offer affordable minimum essential coverage to their full-time employees and dependents or pay an assessment to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Employers may choose to pay the assessment in lieu of providing health care coverage to employees.
