The measure directs hospitals to establish designated public and nonpublic areas and designate an administrator to respond when law enforcement authorities arrive. It takes effect on the 91st day after sine die.

Detailed Summary:

- Defines “law enforcement” to include local, state, and federal law enforcement, excluding the police department established within Oregon Health and Science University
- Directs hospitals to designate nonpublic areas, where access is controlled or patients receive care
- Requires hospitals to designate an administrator to respond when a law enforcement officer arrives at the hospital
- Prohibits hospitals and federally qualified health centers from retaliating or taking adverse action against any worker who provides a patient with information published by a state agency about constitutional rights or legal services
- Permits an employee who alleges a violation to file a complaint with the Bureau of Labor and Industries (BOLI)
- Prohibits hospitals from disclosing information about a person’s citizenship or immigration status for law enforcement purposes, unless required by law or court order

ISSUES DISCUSSED:

- Administrative burden on hospitals
- Clarification that the designated administrator need not be physically present
- Existing hospital policies
- Addressing situations that have occurred

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

The amendment excludes the police department established within Oregon Health and Science University from hospital protocol requirements. It also narrows the prohibition on hospitals disclosing citizenship and immigration status to law enforcement.

BACKGROUND:

Federal immigration laws are primarily enforced by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, which oversees U.S. Customs and Border Protection and U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. The primary legal foundation for U.S. immigration enforcement is the Immigration and Nationality Act, at 8 U.S.C. Section 1357. Local and state police authorities are described in Oregon Revised Statutes \(ORS\) Chapter 133 and ORS Chapter 181A generally. Hospitals and federally qualified health centers are licensed under ORS Chapter 441. State protections for health information are established in ORS 192.553.
