1 A BILL FOR AN ACT

2 Relating to Water Professionals Appreciation Week.

3 Whereas water is the lifeblood of Oregon, and no community or sector of the economy, from 4 agriculture to manufacturing to tourism, can thrive or grow without safe and reliable access to 5 water; and

6 Whereas reliable and effective delivery of public drinking water and sanitary sewer services is 7 essential to protecting public health, to supporting community growth, to the production of housing,
8 to livability and to the efficient operation of safety services, including critical fire protection ser-9 vices; and

10 Whereas technological advances by Oregon's thousands of water professionals have made this 11 state's public drinking water and treated wastewater meet some of the most stringent water quality 12 standards in the United States; and

13 Whereas water professionals are essential stewards of our state's natural environment, working 14 diligently to protect both in-stream and out-of-stream water resources; and

15 Whereas through careful management of water withdrawals, treatment processes and discharge 16 practices, water professionals help maintain healthy river and stream ecosystems, support fish and 17 wildlife habitats and safeguard water quality for downstream users; and

18 Whereas the tireless dedication of Oregon's water professionals ensures that environmental 19 protections are balanced with community needs, advancing practices that promote conservation, 20 sustainability and the long-term resilience of Oregon's watersheds; and

21 Whereas regardless of where it originates, drinking water from public water systems is filtered, 22 cleaned, tested and distributed in a process carefully managed by water system operators certified 23 by the Oregon Health Authority; and

24 Whereas approximately 77 percent of Oregonians are actively served by public water systems
25 that deliver safe drinking water each day through an extensive network of pipelines and distribution 26 systems; and

27 Whereas hundreds of millions of gallons of wastewater is managed each day through thousands 28 of miles of sanitary sewers and more than 300 domestic wastewater treatment plants in Oregon, 29 protecting both public health and the environment; and

NOTE: Matter in boldfaced type in an amended section is new; matter [italic and bracketed] is existing law to be omitted.
New sections are in boldfaced type.

1       Whereas Oregon's water professionals utilize innovative approaches to address both the state's 2 decreasing water supply and impacts on water quality due to environmental changes, including sig-3 nificantly expanding the reuse of treated wastewater; and

4       Whereas water professionals at local public drinking water and wastewater agencies work 24
5 hours a day, seven days a week, including on holidays, to protect public health and the environment,
6 to plan for the future of our most essential resource, to maintain and upgrade crucial water storage, 7 filtering and delivery systems and to improve the safety and resiliency of local water supplies; and

8       Whereas the League of Oregon Cities, the Special Districts Association of Oregon, the Oregon
9 Association of Clean Water Agencies, WateReuse Pacific Northwest, the Oregon Water Utility
10 Council and the Oregon Association of Water Utilities all acknowledge and celebrate the essential 11 work of the water professionals employed by their agency members; now, therefore,

12 Be It Enacted by the People of the State of Oregon:

13       SECTION 1. (1) The first Saturday of October of each year through the end of the Sunday
14 of the following weekend is designated as Water Professionals Appreciation Week.

15       (2) The purpose of the designation is to:

16       (a) Encourage public water agencies and wastewater agencies to offer tours, open houses 17 and other events to educate Oregonians on the important functions of those agencies; and

18       (b) Encourage all Oregonians to learn about the water and wastewater industries in 19 Oregon and consider careers in this critical field.
