HB4145

Strongly opposed to this and the other versions of 114 they've attempted to pass through. Not only am I opposed to the language of the bill but also the way they've tried to push it through. If this were truly a bill of the people, then deception and constant shifting of the goalposts wouldn't be necessary. Rather than directly addressing the testimony against it, the backers of these bills have taken the midnight approach when everyone is asleep or distracted to ram their objectives through. People won't stand to be made criminals for that which they've rightfully done for decades. There is no evidence or support that forcing people to endure a waiting period or carry small magazines enhances public safety. I think we've witnessed the way Oregon has tried to skirt around the will of the people in recent years and people are quite tired of it. Both the left and right seem to be in a national tug of war to see who can run roughshod over peoples natural rights quicker and more effectively. Sad state of affairs for our country. Do better Oregon, please.
