The state of Oregon has shown regularly over the past few years through gun legislation that they do not genuinely care about the safety of the citizens here. While our governor regularly has pissing matches with a federal government that has shown it is not opposed to slaughtering Americans in the streets because they don't care to train their federal officers on deescalation tactics. she simultaneously , with the aid of her constituents, is trying to strip gun rights from the citizens by making the barrier to entry too expensive and time consuming. We are in a situation where a protesting nurse can be killed in the streets for recording a federal officer and you all want to make citizens ability to protect themselves from tyrants harder? You are failing the community
