Please support the 100 species in Oregon's high desert that need conservation protection. It is the right thing to do. Without the stable funding that we can provide, these species will decline. These identified species are part of the landscapes and wildlife that inspire Oregonians. Once again, do the right thing for the future of the people of Oregon and vote for the funding necessary to support these incredible and beautiful species that make Oregon their home.

Thank you,

Peter Pfeiffer, Oregon resident.
