I'm in support of this. I have had difficulty paying my rent on the online portal and I'm happy that I had my money order receipts to show proof I paid my rent, which I sent via priority mail. They are making it hard to pay rent. A lot of tenants don't have access to the internet. Or can't use their phones. If you have a balance more than the rent, it won't let you pay on the online portal. I have had a lot of problems with the online portal. I send everything in the mail to their office. Plus I like the fact that I have my own receipt from my money order. I can't depend on the online portal. It always locks me out. I prefer not to pay that way.
