I think that the magazine capacity limit is utterly stupid. Also, not allowing people with legally acquired magazines to possess them in public is wrong. I also think that CHL holders and former military and police should be exempt from training and permit requirements. Period. They already had training and a CHL should suffice as far as any extra scrutiny placed on gun purchasers. A permit needed to exercise a constitutional right is unconstitutional.

You guys think that criminals are going to obey these laws? No they won't. They will pack their illegally obtained firearms with illegally obtained high capacity magazines. They don't care. Criminals don't obey laws. This is all just political theater. The only people these laws effect is law abiding citizens legally using firearms for sport and self defense, and you know this.

Tell Governor Kotek that this former registered Democrat is going to vote for none but her in the next election. We The People are sick of this constant stupidity, fraud, and constitutional infringements. We are tired of this. You all are going to find out at election time.
