

I retired from the US Army in 2015 and have a 100% clean record as I am a law-abiding citizen. I believe this measure violates my constitutional rights under the second amendment of the United States constitution. This measure will do nothing to prevent crime as criminals already show disdain for the law and will not affect their ability to proliferate crimes with a firearm. This measure will put an undue burden on our law enforcement agencies (that as far as I am aware will receive no addition funding to support its enforcement) and will only require law abiding citizens to go through unnecessary steps to practice a right already guaranteed them by the constitution. I too hate crimes committed by firearms. It is not possible for me to loathe them more. However, this type of response is not going to do anything to stop them.
