I am against this bill. The lack of actual science to support Gender Affirming Care, as shown in the Cass report and in the HHS report, coupled with the recent lawsuit settlement of $2 million for removing a 16-year-old's breasts, should put the brakes on it all. By now, even the plastic surgeons' society is recommending no surgeries until age 19. When one of the most prominent practitioners, Johanna Olson-Kennedy, can't prove her treatment paradigm improved her own patients' mental health, and even had two commit suicide during treatment, it should have sent shock waves through the medical and psychological community. Stop the madness!
