Hi, my name is Pearly Holmlund and I am a resident of Troutdale, Oregon. I'm born and raised in Oregon which means I have a great love and passion for the outdoors. I've grown up going to local farm stands, local flower farms, pumpkin patches, berry farms you name it I've been there. I am now 31 years old and I have two young children and I love that they get to grow up in this state. I love to share these beautiful places that I grew up going and supporting. As a mom it's vital for me to show my kids how beautiful the state is and how important local farms are to this community. Every year, my family picks berries, goes to multiple different pumpkin patches and flower farms. We absolutely need help in passing bill 4153 to protect these farms and help them keep their agrotourism alive and available for future generations.

Thanks you for your time.
